COMMONWEALTH PSYCHOSOCIAL Support Program

A PSYCHOSOCIAL SUPPORT PROGRAM
helping you live
the life you want

The Commonwealth Psychosocial Support (CPS) Program provides time limited recovery support for people living with severe mental health challenges to achieve their goals and improve wellbeing.

A recovery support worker and CPS worker can help you work on the goals you want to achieve.

You will be supported to take part in a range of activities to help you live your best life.

Discover how CPS could help you.

What support will I receive?

CPS tailors support to your specific needs.

A recovery support worker and access worker will aim to help you achieve your goals, manage daily tasks, get involved in activities and make connections. You may receive support with finding work, connecting with your community, or accessing other health professionals.

What is a CPS worker?

Many of our team members have lived experience of mental health challenges and recovery. Such valuable skills help you achieve your goals and participate in community life the way you want to.

How do I access CPS?

Anyone can refer an eligible person to the program (with their permission) including:

Self-referral
Carers, family or friends
Health professionals

Please see referral contact details at the back of the brochure.
